The Birds of Chan Chich Lodge & Gallon Jug

This condensed checklist of indexed birds does not include any species that have been observed here fewer than 5 times, or which have not been seen in the last five years. For those species, some of which may become more frequent over time, refer to the full checklist, and please ask our knowledgeable naturalist guides any questions you may have.

We encourage you to submit your observations to eBird at ebird.org! For identification aid, you may consider downloading Cornell's Merlin app, which has a package specific to Belizean birds.

After each bird name comes a letter that indicates the likelihood of seeing the species, depending on suitable habitat and seasonality, which are Abundant at Chan Chich, Common, Uncommon, and Rare. The second letter designates the bird as a Resident of Belize, Migrant, or Endemic to this region.
